As the Physician Recruiter for Urban Health Plan, I am proud to endorse the Inline Group and share my positive experience with their firm. Their organization has been key in supporting our health centers in all of our primary care and advanced practitioner openings.

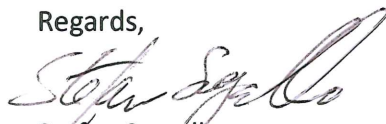

TIG created a digital recruitment platform that has yielded better results than any other resource I have used in the past. The work they have done and level of candidate activity we have seen is truly amazing.

We entered into our agreement with The Inline Group (TIG) December 2015, and within one week our entire platform was built and we had six candidates submitted to us for review. In the last 90 days:

- We have reviewed 29 candidates
- Conducted 12 interviews
- Made 6 offers and 1 hire

TIG provides monthly communication with detailed reporting. This information helps to keep us informed on exactly what is taking place on our behalf. TIG has been an incredible ROI for our organization and the patients we care for. We fully support TIG and look forward to their expansion across New York.

Regards,

Stefan Segadlo
